So Much for Global Warming

Mainerd sez: Looks like I'm back in business at the copy desk; doing my book reviews. New editorial staff for me to break in and sheesh! Change-overs are a beach. It's going to take a lot of late hours to whip the new editors in shape, although the former one, while she's probably forgotten all she ever knew about putting out an issue, should catch on without too much hassle. The new co-editor, I surmise, is younger and smarter....I hope. No offense, mom.

"We Coons are indoor cats—Right? Sure am glad I'm not a squirrel..."
